DETAILED ACTION

1. To set the record straight, the examiner wants to point out that the amendment filed 8/27/2007 presented two distinct inventions and applicants appear to amend the elected claims to include claims from other non-elected group(s). As argued in the amendment filed 3/24/2008, the applicants assumed and argued that:

- a. the amendment filed 8/27/2007, is considered to be non-compliant amendment and was not entered; and
- b. the second restriction is moot (11/15/2007).

With regard to a: It is correct that the amendment filed 8/27/2007 is considered non-compliant and was not entered.

With regard to b: Although, the examiner believes that there are two distinct inventions presented in the 8/27/2007 amendment and because, the applicants also appear to amend the elected claims to include claims from other non-elected group(s), and to set the record clear, the second amendment is considered moot.

2. In response to applicants' argument filed 3/24/2008 (pages 12-13 of 18), the examiner, now believes the amended claims are not directed to claims from other non-elected groups as per the original election/restriction requirement (1/4/2007); however, the newly amended claims are believed to have two distinct inventions and that the new request for election/restriction requirement is deemed to be necessary.

Election/Restrictions

3. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-7, 10, 74-88, drawn to a method of decoding images, classified in class 375, subclass 240.25.
 - II. Claims 18-21, 89-112, drawn to a method of encoding images, classified in class 375, subclass 240.16.
4. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:
- Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination are separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination decoder has separate utility such as to decode images. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between subcombinations usable together. Where applicant elects a subcombination and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art due to their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
